

The 5th Annual Rev'ved up 4 Kidz Charity Car Show

Edelbrock Puts Horsepower to a Good Cause

TEXT AND PHOTOS BY TRAVIS NOACK

April 24-25, 2010 marked the 5th Annual Rev'ved Up 4 Kidz Charity Car Show presented by Edelbrock in conjunction with the Center for Learning Unlimited. The event rumbled to life on Saturday evening as Christi Edelbrock, Edelbrock's vice president of purchasing and event organizer, hosted a gala dinner and charity auction at Vic's garage, where an evening of live and silent auctions got the fundraising fuel flowing.

Sunday morning, April 25, the streets around the Edelbrock facility in Torrance, California, were filled with paint, chrome and horsepower on display for all to see. The 2nd Annual Hot Rodders of Tomorrow Engine Challenge Regional Competition brought out local high school students who were timed on how quickly they could assemble an engine. This program gives young gearheads a chance to shine and learn more about the technical side of their automotive addiction.

Several vendors were on hand peddling their wares, and in addition to the vast amount of custom machinery on deck, live music and tasty food kept the high energy of the event going.

All proceeds from the event go to the Center for Learning Unlimited to help children with learning disabilities. Make sure to put Rev'ved Up 4 Kidz on next year's event calendar. For more information, go to www.revvedup4kidz.com. D

(1)

(1) This '55 two-door wagon done up in Gasser fashion got our vote.

(2) Some people just have too much money!

(3) The Hot Rodders of Tomorrow Engine Building Challenge pitted local high school students against each other as they assembled a line of small-block V-8s.

(4) Here's Vic signing autographs for his loyal fans and customers.

(5) We ran into Ed Iskenderian of Isky Racing Cams minutes after purchasing a custom, tin Isky sign. We sprinted for a pen and got his signature on our souvenir.

(2)

(5)

(3)

(4)

