

Edelbrock Rev'Ved Up 4 Kidz 5th Annual car Show

Car shows with a cause. We have seen hot rodders and car enthusiasts pull together to help raise funds and awareness to Veterans groups, cancer research, food drives for homeless shelters, Toys For Tots, and the list goes on. You throw these guys and gals a parking lot, some rock 'n roll music and you can bet the turn-out will be a good one. This is exactly what the Edelbrock staff/employees have done for the past five years, putting on Rev'ved Up 4 Kidz car show.

One hundred percent of the proceeds go to The Center For Learning Unlimited. (website: www.cflu.org) founded in 1985 the C.F.L.U. helps children with learning disabilities and covers grade school through high school. It gives these kids a chance to receive a good education and a life time change that sets goals that will follow them through their life. We can help by just turning an ignition key and bringing our cars to these events. Who knows, maybe one of these kids will be a trouble shooter for G.M. or Ford or better yet, opening up their own "hot rod shop"! Think about this, your entry fee changed the direction of someone's education and life. I know you have to feel good about that! Until next time, stay safe and I will see you on the line.

Ron and Peggy Updike On-Line Productions Hot Rods & Photos

Ron Takabayasai '65 El Camino hits the highway quick, once that blower kicks in!

Flathead powered deuce, topped off with three-two's was in the AAA display area.

Meguiar's display area showed off its products on this "old school" Ford pick-up!

Edelbrock offers various "crate motors" from Ford to Chevy!

"Horseless Carriage" now there is some Pony Power! Wild Ride.

Gary Whymore brought in his lightly flamed '55 Chevy truck from Anaheim, Ca.

Greg Vining's "Quarter Mile Hauler" Paint and workmanship on this car is "flawless"!

Jeff Mofield's stock '54 Caddy went through a complete rebuild eight years ago. Nice ride!

Wheel standing '65 Nova in owned by the Henry Family. Front license plate says it all, "this end up"!

Cool little "bullet nose" roadster would be at home at Bonneville or running the quarter mile!

"We Build 'Em Fast!" That's the motto used by Woody's Hot Rod Garage. Taking a look at this blown hauler, they live up to that motto!

'34 Plymouth four door sedan belongs to the Caliva Family and can be seen cruising in Hermosa Beach, Ca.

Bob Hass's '56 Chevy caught a lot of attention at this event, along with the great paint scheme came a "few" other custom touches.

Larry Kersenboon's '33 custom Ford coupe, bobbed fenders, cool paint and Ford powered!

A M C never expected some "hot rodder" to throw a blown big block between the rails of one of their cars!

'57 Chevy's in a row take your pick, street, custom, or strip!

No name on this Chevy, but take my word it's clean, starting with the two-tone paint to the interior!

'66 Blown and flamed Chevy Malibu is the work of Jon Cohen from Inglewood, Ca.